

A MAGICAL CHRISTMAS TRADITION

Chicago, IL

DECEMBER 13, 2010 (Monday)

Esther Farmwald, Escort

Want to see something very special and exciting? A wonderful Christmas Special for your children & grandchildren, at the Science and Industry Museum for the Festival of Trees. A time-honored celebration features more than 50 dazzling trees, displays and nativities that celebrate holiday customs from around the world and are decorated by members of Chicago's ethnic communities. Then on to Macy's Walnut Room, for lunch around a 2 story great Tree trimmed with 15,000 lights and 1,200 ornaments. The Walnut Room is one of the oldest restaurants in Chicago. It features the original Circassian walnut paneling and Austrian Chandeliers, and has a viewing area on the 8th floor. Macy's has world-famous animated, themed window displays. Time for you to see the windows and shop.
